

Caring You Can Count On: Home Care Tips from Central Penn Nursing Care

LATE SHIFT

November 28, 2011

There may be times when seniors who live alone in their homes require someone to stay overnight. They may be recovering from surgery or going through a difficult time. Caring and compassionate home care aides offer that service. Doing so provides the senior clients with the benefits of a companion. The aides can be there if the seniors wake during the night and require assistance getting to the bathroom or need something to drink. Their presence can keep the seniors from feeling helpless and frightened. Aides can also provide reminders if pills are to be taken late in the evening or very early in the morning. They can make sure the seniors are comfortable, supplying a blanket or comforter if necessary.

The best thing an over-night caregiver can offer is peace of mind. Your family can rest more easily knowing that your loved one is taken care of during the night. We provide a wide range of services from occasional overnight stays to full-time 24-hour care, so there's sure to be something for your family.

Did you know if you are a Veteran of World War II, the Korean War or the Vietnam War you may be eligible for Home Care benefits thru the Veterans Administration?

P.S. Because medications affect their sleep, many seniors who live alone can benefit from an overnight aide that Central Penn Nursing Care can provide.
