

Caring You Can Count On: Home Care Tips from Central Penn Nursing Care

NATURAL SELECTION

January 2, 2012

Anyone who requires the special services provided by a homecare agency knows what a daunting task the selection process can be. Sourcing a professional, caring, and compassionate service provider requires considerable time and attention. Pennsylvania requires the service provider to possess a Homecare License. Please be sure these requirements have been met with any Homecare agency you might choose. Schedule an initial, confidential meeting with any agency you are considering. Ask about what services they provide. Inquire as to how they screen their employees. Does the agency provide them with continuing education? Are they insured? Ultimately, you will find a homecare agency that fulfills, or hopefully exceeds, your expectations.

If you are thinking about hiring a caregiver agency, please call our office. As the largest independently owned homecare and staffing agency in Lancaster County, we are proud to say that we carefully screen our caregivers and work hard to make sure that we get the right match between caregiver and client.

P.S. Ask a potential homecare agency how it evaluates their employees.
